

J.P. Morgan Asset Management appoints new Head of Investments on the Global Liquidity EMEA team

London, 11 February 2018

J.P. Morgan Asset Management (JPMAM) has appointed Jemma Clee as an Executive Director and Head of Investment Specialists for Global Liquidity in EMEA, with immediate effect.

Clee will be responsible for servicing existing clients and generating new business for the Global Liquidity product range with a focus on short-term fixed income solutions for corporate clients, financial institutions as well as platforms, encompassing both pooled funds and separately managed accounts.

Clee joins from Goldman Sachs Asset Management (GSAM) where she worked on the Global Fixed Income and Liquidity Team for 14 years, the past eight years of which she was the short duration lead portfolio manager focused on UK and European clients.

Based in London, Clee will report to Ted Ufferfilge, Managing Director and Global Head of Investment Specialist for the Global Liquidity business.

“We are extremely excited Jemma has joined the team as she comes with a great deal of experience and is very familiar with our client base as well as the short-term investment landscape. Her role in servicing our clients in the EMEA region will be crucial in helping us to continue to grow and expand our presence, and ensure that short-term cash investors’ needs are met by an investment manager with both the track record, experience and depth of solutions our Global Liquidity business is able to bring,” Ufferfilge said.
