Quarter in Review

- The JPMorgan Equity Premium Income ETF outperformed the benchmark, the S&P 500 Total Return Index, for the quarter ended December 31, 2025.
- Our overweight in Cognizant contributed to performance during the quarter. The stock experienced notable improvements, driven by financial outperformance compared to most larger peers, upward revision of guidance, strong momentum in large deal wins, and its effective positioning and execution as an "AI builder". Additionally, management's comment about exploring a secondary listing in India likely drove positive sentiment on the stock.
- Our overweight in Regeneron Pharmaceuticals contributed to performance during the quarter. Stock performance was driven by strong quarterly earnings, with notable growth in key products like Dupixent and Eylea-HD. Despite challenges such as competitive pressures across the Eylea franchise and regulatory delays for portions of the expanded Eylea HD label, the company maintained robust revenue growth and profitability. The company's strong performance in the second half of the fourth quarter was also driven by an approval for the Eylea HD RVO indication.
- Our overweight in Oracle detracted from performance during the quarter. Into the fall, shares were up over 80% for the year, as the company put out annual revenue and EPS targets that exceeded expectations, showing the level of momentum the company is seeing from GenAI demand. Shares are down since then, with some investors increasingly concerned about the company's ability to fund the level of AI data center investment needed to support its revenue targets. Performance was also affected by December quarterly results that showed only in-line cloud infrastructure revenues.
- Our underweight in Alphabet detracted from performance during the quarter. Performance was predominately driven by increasing optimism for Gemini versus ChatGPT and tensor processing units (TPUs) as a differentiator for Google Cloud. Gemini sentiment is benefiting from the release of Gemini 3, which jumped to the top of the AI leaderboard, concerns about OpenAI's funding outlook, and the delay in ChatGPT's advertising offering. Additionally, Google reported better-than-expected third quarter results on stronger-than-expected advertising growth.

Looking Ahead

- The U.S. equity market rally remains strong but presents a case for active stock selection in the face of high index concentration and a narrow rally led by AI and technology. Additionally, evolving monetary and fiscal policies, along with geopolitical tensions in the U.S. and globally, could add to market volatility. We continue to focus on high-conviction stocks and take advantage of market dislocations for compelling stock-selection opportunities.

Risk Summary

Investments in Equity-Linked Notes (ELNs) are subject to liquidity risk, which may make ELNs difficult to sell and value. Lack of liquidity may also cause the value of the ELN to decline. Since ELNs are in note form, they are subject to certain debt securities risks, such as credit or counterparty risk. Should the prices of the underlying instruments move in an unexpected manner, the Fund may not achieve the anticipated benefits of an investment in an ELN, and may realize losses, which could be significant and could include the Fund's entire principal investment.

The price of equity securities may fluctuate rapidly or unpredictably due to factors affecting individual companies, as well as changes in economic or political conditions. These price movements may result in loss of your investment.

Annual Operating Expenses

The Fund's management agreement provides that the adviser will pay substantially all expenses of the Fund, except for the management fees, payments under the Fund's 12b-1 plan (if any), interest expenses, dividend and interest expenses related to short sales, taxes, acquired fund fees and expenses (other than fees for funds advised by the adviser and/or its affiliates), costs of holding shareholder meetings, and litigation and potential litigation and other extraordinary expenses not incurred in the ordinary course of the Fund's business. The Fund shall be responsible for its non-operating expenses, including brokerage commissions and fees and expenses associated with the Fund's securities lending program, if applicable.

Top Holdings

The top 10 holdings listed exclude cash and money markets. Holdings are subject to change. The holdings listed should not be considered recommendations to purchase or sell a particular security. Each individual security is calculated as a percentage of the net assets.

Indexes

ETFs have fees that reduce their performance: indexes do not. You cannot invest directly in an index.

The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating", is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10- year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods. Rankings do not take sales loads into account.

The Morningstar Medalist Rating™ is a summary expression of Morningstar's forward-looking analysis of investment strategies using a rating scale of Gold, Silver, Bronze, Neutral and Negative. Medalist Ratings indicate which investments Morningstar believes are likely to outperform a relevant index or peer group average on a risk-adjusted basis over time. Products are evaluated on three key pillars (People, Parent, and Process) which, when coupled with fees, forms the basis for Morningstar's conviction in those products' investment merits and determines the Medalist Rating assigned. Products are sorted by expected performance into rating groups defined by their Morningstar Category and their active or passive status. Analyst-covered products are assigned the three pillar ratings based on the analyst's qualitative assessment, subject to the Analyst Rating Committee's oversight, monitored and reevaluated at least every 14 months. Ratings are assigned monthly for vehicles covered either indirectly by analysts or by algorithm. For more detailed information including methodology, please go to global.morningstar.com/ managerdisclosures.

Ratings and rankings should not be used as the sole basis in evaluating an investment product and should not be considered an offer or solicitation to buy or sell the investment product.
