A merger statement will be mailed to you within 10 days of the merger date. Additional information, including the Fund auditor's merger report, KIID, prospectus and most recent financial reports of both sub-funds are available at www.jpmorganassetmanagement.lu or from the registered office. Merger timeline and impact

This section outlines key information relating to the merger. Further information is contained in the detailed sub-fund comparison that follows as well as in the relevant prospectus and KIIDs. For your convenience, a KIID for the receiving sub-fund is enclosed.

Key Dates

When the merger transaction occurs, all assets, liabilities and any income in your sub-fund will be transferred to the receiving sub-fund, and your sub-fund will cease to exist.

All shares remaining in your sub-fund at the merger date will be exchanged free of charge for shares in a corresponding share class of the receiving sub-fund, based on the net asset value per share in effect that day for both sub-funds. The corresponding share classes for the receiving sub-funds do not charge performance fees. The calculation of the exchange ratio will be validated and documented in the merger report prepared by the company auditors that will be available to you upon request.

Your Sub-Fund charges a performance fee as shown in the “Charges” section and the receiving sub-fund does not. Any performance fee payable in your sub-fund is calculated and accrued daily in the Net Asset Value. This means you will only contribute to any accrual of performance fees until the effective date of the merger.

The value of the shares you own in your sub-fund and the new shares you receive in the receiving sub-fund will be the same but you may receive a different number of shares.

Impact

Key differences in investment policy between your sub-fund and the receiving sub-fund

- Unlike your sub-fund, the receiving sub-fund does not use Financial Derivative Instruments for investment purposes nor does it enhance investment returns, through a 130/30 strategy.

Potential benefits

- The merger will give you the benefit of investing in a larger sub-fund that has the prospect of stronger growth in assets in the future and may potentially benefit from economies of scale which may result in lower operating and administrative expenses.
- The receiving sub-fund has equivalent or lower fees than your sub-fund.

Potential drawbacks

- One-time expenses associated with transaction costs will be borne by your sub-fund.
- On the merger date, and during the two business days before that, you will not be able to subscribe for, switch or redeem shares in your sub-fund.

Other considerations

- Your sub-fund will not bear any additional legal, advisory or administrative costs associated with the merger.
- While the receiving sub-fund calculates its global exposure on a commitment basis, your sub-fund does so through the relative Value-at-Risk methodology (with an expected level of leverage of 100%).
- As the portfolio of your sub-fund closely resembles that of the receiving sub-fund, however some rebalancing of the assets will be required in preparation for the merger.
- Performance information for your sub-fund and the receiving sub-fund can be found in the relevant KIID or factsheet which is available from the document library at jpmorganassetmanagement.com

Sub-fund comparison

This table compares the relevant information for your sub-fund with that of the receiving sub-fund. Unless stated otherwise, terms in this table have the same meaning as in the relevant prospectus.

- Information that appears in a box is information that is particular to the sub-fund named at the top of that column.
- Information that crosses both columns is information that is the same for both sub-funds.

Investments and Risks

Objectives and investment policies

To provide long-term capital growth primarily through exposure to companies, globally, by direct investment in securities of such companies and through the use of financial derivative instruments.

At least 67% of the Sub-Fund's assets (excluding cash and cash equivalents) will be invested, either directly or through the use of financial derivative instruments, in equity securities. Issuers of these securities may be located in any country, including emerging markets.

To enhance investment returns, the Sub-Fund uses a 130/30 strategy, buying securities considered undervalued or attractive and selling short securities considered overvalued or less attractive, using financial derivative instruments where appropriate.

The Sub-Fund will normally hold long positions of approximately 130% of its net assets and short positions (achieved through the use of financial derivative instruments) of approximately 30% of its net assets but may vary from these targets depending on market conditions.

The Sub-Fund uses an investment process that is based on the fundamental analysis of companies and their future earnings and cashflows by a research team of specialist sector analysts.

The Sub-Fund will invest in financial derivative instruments to achieve its investment objective. Such instruments may also be used for the purposes of hedging. These instruments may include, but are not limited to, futures, options, contracts for difference, forward contracts on financial instruments and options on such contracts, credit linked instruments, mortgage TBAs and swap contracts by private agreement and other fixed income, currency and credit derivatives.

Debt securities, cash and cash equivalents may be held on an ancillary basis.

The Sub-Fund may also invest in units of UCITS and other UCIs including money market funds.

Risk factors	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There is no guarantee that the use of long and short positions will succeed in enhancing investment returns. • The value of financial derivative instruments can be volatile. This is because a small movement in the value of the underlying asset can cause a large movement in the value of the financial derivative instrument and therefore, investment in such instruments may result in losses in excess of the amount invested by the Sub-Fund. • The possible loss from taking a short position on a security may be unlimited as there is no restriction on the price to which a security may rise. The short selling of investments may be subject to changes in regulations, which could adversely impact returns to investors.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The value of your investment may fall as well as rise and you may get back less than you originally invested. • The value of equity securities may go down as well as up in response to the performance of individual companies and general market conditions. • Emerging markets may be subject to increased political, regulatory and economic instability, less developed custody and settlement practices, poor transparency and greater financial risks. Emerging market currencies may be subject to volatile price movements. Emerging market securities may also be subject to higher volatility and lower liquidity than non emerging market securities. • Movements in currency exchange rates can adversely affect the return of your investment. The currency hedging that may be used to minimise the effect of currency fluctuations may not always be successful. • Further information about risks can be found in "Appendix IV – Risk Factors".
