Merger timeline and impact

This section outlines key information relating to the merger. Further information is contained in the detailed sub-fund comparison that follows as well as in the relevant prospectus and KIIDs. For your convenience, a KIID for the receiving sub-fund is enclosed.

Key Dates

When the merger transaction occurs, all assets, liabilities and any income in your sub-fund will be transferred to the receiving sub-fund, and your sub-fund will cease to exist.

All shares remaining in your sub-fund at the merger date are exchanged free of charge for shares in the equivalent share class of the receiving sub-fund. The exchange ratio is rounded to 7 decimal places and is based on the extended net asset value per share, exceptionally rounded for the purposes of the merger to 6 decimal places, in effect that day for both sub-funds. The calculation of the exchange ratio will be validated and documented in the merger report prepared by the company auditors that will be available to you upon request.

The total value of the shares you own in your sub-fund and the new shares you receive in the receiving sub-fund will be the same, subject to rounding adjustments, but you may receive a different number of shares.

Impact

Key differences in investment policy between your sub-fund and the receiving sub-fund

- While your sub-fund invests primarily in companies that are domiciled in, or carrying out the main part of their economic activity in, Hong Kong, the receiving sub-fund invests primarily in companies that are domiciled in, or carrying out the main part of their economic activity in, the People's Republic of China.
- Unlike your sub-fund, the receiving sub-fund may invest in China A-Shares through the China-Hong Kong Stock Connect Programmes and QFII investment quota granted to the Investment Manager.

Potential benefits

- The merger will give you the benefit of investing in a larger sub-fund that has the prospect of stronger growth in assets in the future and may potentially benefit from economies of scale which may result in lower operating and administrative expenses.

Potential drawbacks

- One-time expenses associated with transaction costs will be borne by your sub-fund
- On the merger date, and during the two business days before that, you will not be able to subscribe for, switch or redeem shares in your sub-fund.

Other considerations

- Your sub-fund will not bear any additional legal, advisory or administrative costs associated with the merger.
- The portfolio of your sub-fund somewhat resembles that of the receiving sub-fund, however, some rebalancing of the assets will be required in preparation for the merger.
- Performance information for your sub-fund and the receiving sub-fund can be found in the relevant KIID or factsheet which is available from the document library at jpmorganassetmanagement.lu.

Sub-fund comparison

This table compares the relevant information for your sub-fund with that of the receiving sub-fund. Unless stated otherwise, terms in this table have the same meaning as in the relevant prospectus.

- Information that appears in a box is information that is particular to the sub-fund named at the top of that column.
- Information that crosses both columns is information that is the same for both sub-funds.

Risk factors	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Sub-Fund is denominated in USD but its underlying assets are mainly denominated in Hong Kong dollars. The value of the Hong Kong dollar is pegged to the USD but this peg may be reset from time to time. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Investors should note that the QFII status could be suspended, reduced or revoked, which may have an adverse effect on the Sub-Fund's performance as CNY denominated debt securities would need to be liquidated. • The Sub-Fund may invest in China A-Shares through the China-Hong Kong Stock Connect Programmes which are subject to regulatory change, quota limitations and also operational constraints which may result in increased counterparty risk. • Emerging markets may be subject to increased political, regulatory and economic instability, less developed custody and settlement practices, poor transparency and greater financial risks. Emerging market currencies may be subject to volatile price movements. Emerging market securities may also be subject to higher volatility and lower liquidity than non emerging market securities.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The value of your investment may fall as well as rise and you may get back less than you originally invested. • Because the Sub-Fund is aggressively managed, volatility may be high as the Sub-Fund may take larger position sizes, may have high turnover of holdings and at times may have a significant exposure to certain areas of the market. • The value of equity securities may go down as well as up in response to the performance of individual companies and general market conditions. • The single market in which the Sub-Fund invests may be subject to particular political and economic risks, and as a result, the Sub-Fund may be more volatile than more broadly diversified funds. • The Sub-Fund may be concentrated in a limited number of securities and industry sectors and as a result, may be more volatile than more broadly diversified funds. • The Sub-Fund may invest in securities of smaller companies which may be less liquid, more volatile and tend to carry greater financial risk than securities of larger companies.

- Movements in currency exchange rates can adversely affect the return of your investment. The currency hedging that may be used to minimise the effect of currency fluctuations may not always be successful.
- Further information about risks can be found in "Appendix IV – Risk Factors".
