<sup>1</sup> Prior to the implementation of a new management agreement on 11/1/19, performance for some periods may have reflected the waiver of all or a portion of the Funds' advisory or administrative fees and/or reimbursement of other expenses by the financial professional. Without these waivers or reimbursements, performance would have been lower.

<sup>2</sup> Effective 9/14/20, the Fund was converted from a global to a predominately international strategy (previously named JPMorgan Global Bond Opportunities ETF).

<sup>1</sup> Source: J.P. Morgan Asset Management was the recipient of the ETF.com 2018 award for ETF Issuer of the Year. ETF.com Award winners are selected in a three-part process designed to leverage the insights and opinions of leaders throughout the ETF industry. The awards process began with an open nomination period running from Dec. 3, 2018, through Jan. 3, 2019. ETF.com received hundreds of nominations from participants in all corners of the ETF space. Following the open nominations process, the ETF.com Awards Nominating Committee—made up of senior leaders at ETF.com, Inside ETFs and FactSet—voted to select up to five finalists in each category. Votes were tallied on a majority basis. Winners from these finalists were selected by a majority vote of the ETF.com Awards Selection Committee, a group of independent ETF experts. Committee members recused themselves from voting in any category in which they or their firms appeared as finalists. Ties were decided where possible with head-to-head runoff votes. Voting was completed by Jan. 14, 2019, but results were kept secret until their announcement at the ETF.com U.S. Awards Dinner on March 28, 2019. J.P. Morgan Asset Management and JPMDS are not affiliated with ETF.com.

International investing involves a greater degree of risk and increased volatility. Changes in currency exchange rates and differences in accounting and taxation policies outside the U.S. can raise or lower returns. Also, some overseas markets may not be as politically and economically stable as the U.S. and other nations. Emerging markets involve heightened risks related to the same factors as well as increased volatility and decreased trading volume. There is no guarantee the funds will meet their investment objective.

Diversification may not protect against market loss.
